Town of Ulysses Zoning Update Kick-off!

The Town of Ulysses announces a public meeting on Saturday, February 27th at 9:30 AM at the Trumansburg Fire Hall for residents to learn about the Ulysses land use regulations project and to help guide zoning recommendations.

In 2009, the Town of Ulysses adopted a Comprehensive Plan update that includes the Town vision and strategies to preserve, protect, and enhance the rural character, natural resources, and agricultural practices in the Town, balanced with appropriate level of growth and development. In 2013, the Town adopted an Agriculture and Farmland Protection Plan that focuses on goals to strengthen the agricultural economy, improve public understanding of farming, establish appropriate tax policies that support agriculture, and enhance land use policies to better protect farmland.

These two planning documents guide policy changes for the Town. In 2013, the Town created two new zoning districts – Lakeshore and Conservation – that implement recommendations in the Comprehensive Plan. The Town is now looking at other parts of the town, including agricultural areas and Jacksonville, to bring the zoning in line with the Comprehensive Plan.

The project kick-off meeting will be held at the Trumansburg Fire Hall, located at 74 West Main St in Trumansburg. The doors will open at 8:30 am with a light breakfast and meet-and-greet with project team. The event will start at 9:30 am with a presentation on the zoning update project, current conditions and existing plans; this will be followed by audience participation in a brainwriting exercise and hands on activities looking at neighborhood building.

We hope to see you there and hear from you on this important topic to guide future land use development in the Town.
